WHY FIBERGLASS

Discover the Difference

We know there are two kinds of pools—the kind you labor over, and the kind you love. Latham's inground fiberglass pools are a smarter choice than concrete. As the go-to material for hot tubs and high-end yachts, fiberglass is the pinnacle of luxury and longevity, offering durability, seamless maintenance, and a silky-smooth finish for decades of indulgence. With superior durability, quicker installation, and easier maintenance, Latham fiberglass gives you more enjoyment from every swim season.

INSTALLATION TIMELINE

You Deserve More Immediate Gratification

The whole point of an in-ground pool is to be able to relax in it. Concrete pool owners spend a lot more time and money on maintenance than they would have with fiberglass. Spend more time enjoying your pool and less time maintaining it—and get out of the stone age!

Quicker Installation

Enjoy your pool sooner and get more out of swim season. Fiberglass pools can be installed in as little as 2-4 weeks vs. 3-4 months compared to concrete. Unlike concrete pools which keep your yard in disarray and require up to 30 days for the material to cure, fiberglass pools are pre-engineered, highly durable, and efficient to install.

Easier Maintenance

Fiberglass has a polished, nonporous finish, making it easier to clean and maintain. Concrete, on the other hand, is porous and more inviting to algae and bacteria which must be vigorously scrubbed with a stiff-bristled brush, week after week.

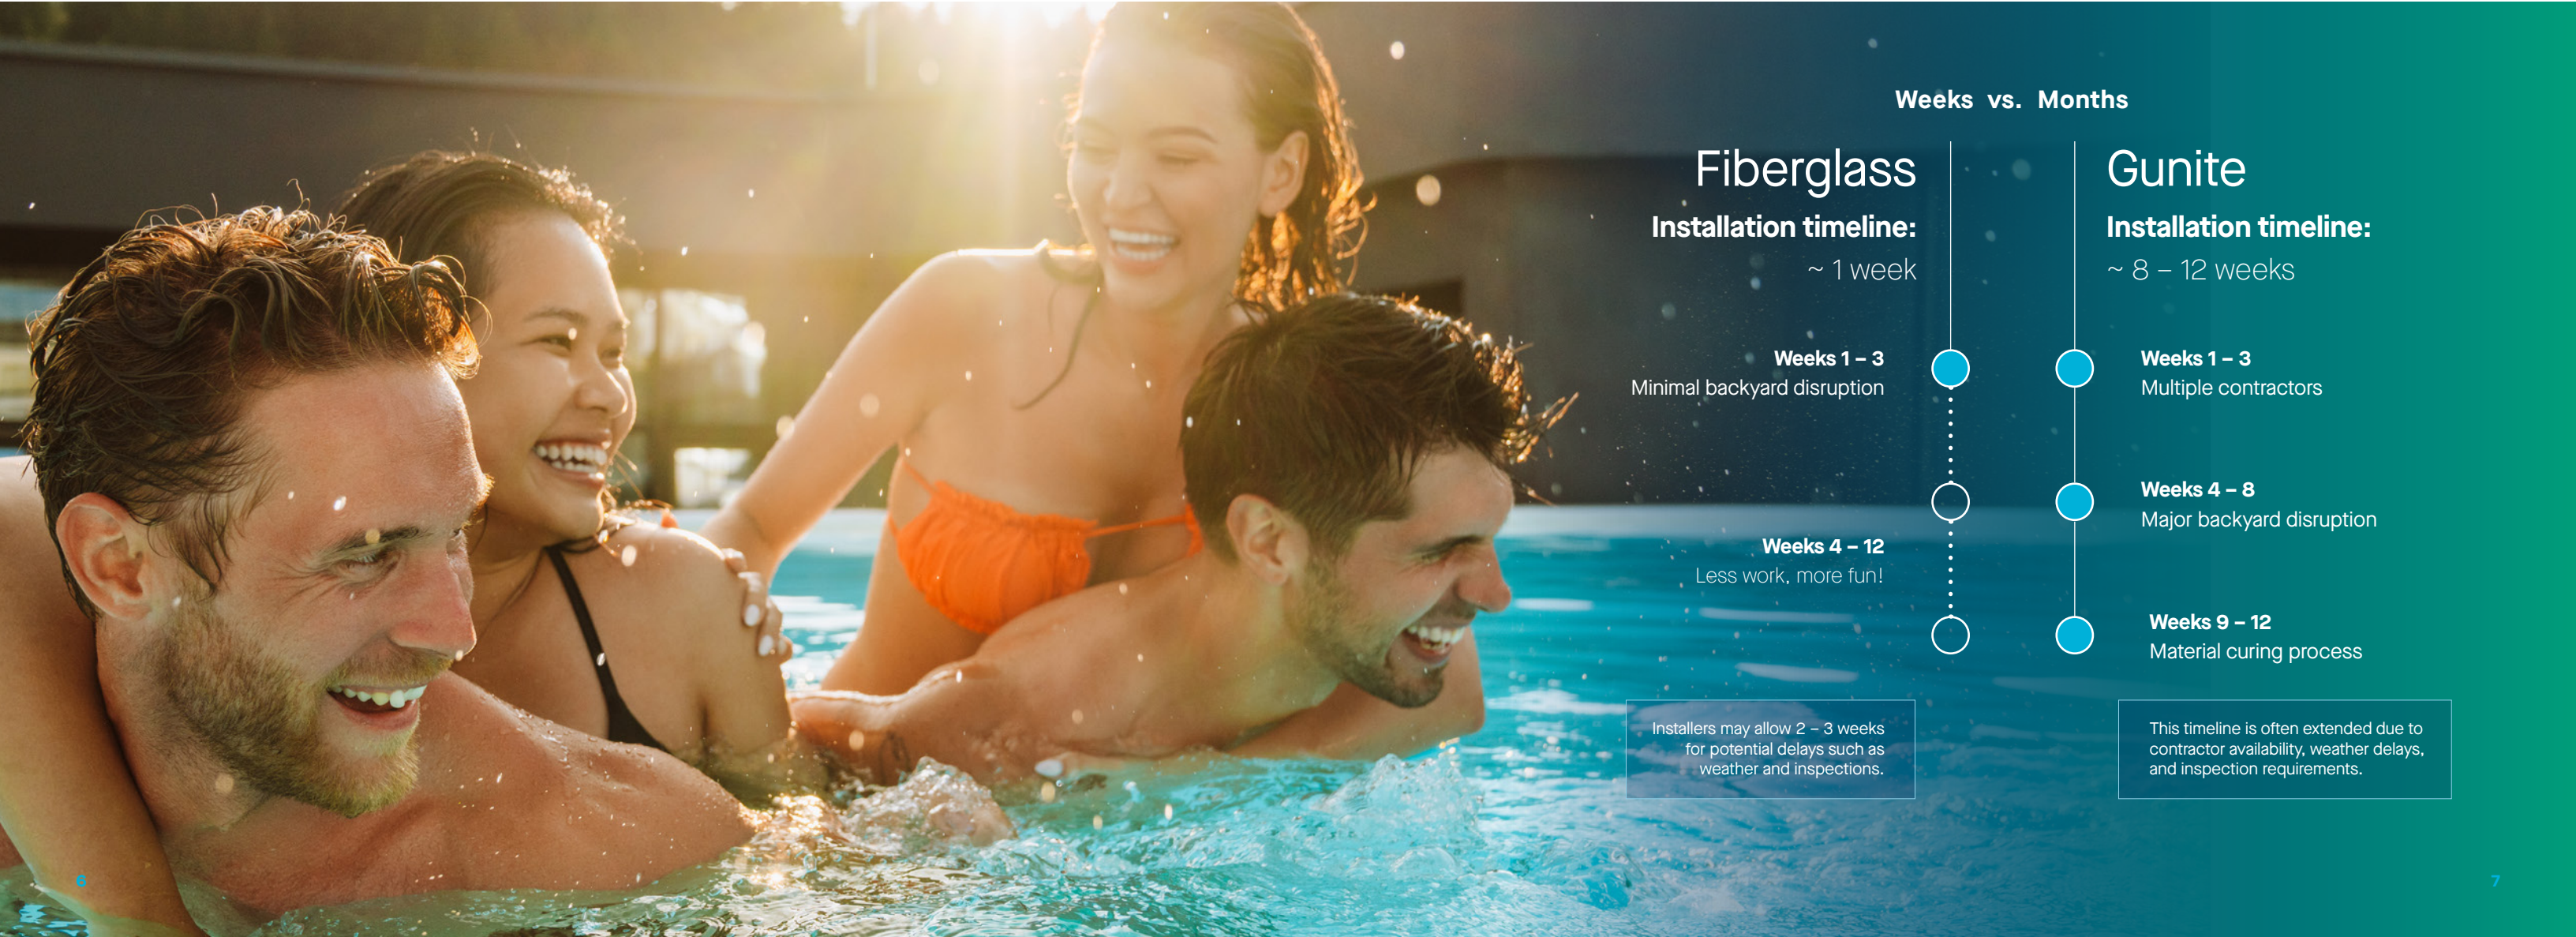

Less Chemical Usage

A fiberglass surface does not affect water chemistry like concrete, so less chemicals are needed.

Resists Fading, Staining, and Scratching

Innovative Crystite Gel Coat and Advanced Composite Technology ensure your pool will look like new for years to come.
